: NO to future expansion of sanctuaries and listings:

When anything gets overpopulated whether its Mammals, Animals, Birds or Humans, Chaos, panic and infighting occurs. They turn against each other and self-destruct. The whales are at this point, the Green sea turtles too. Don't let them overpopulate

With increasing numbers the whales will not have enough room to enjoy life and freedom. They come to Hawaiian and other pacific islands warmer waters to calve an mate and rest. Just right for us too. They dont eat here because this is actually a "Dead Zone" for food. All their nutritional food is in the colder waters, Bering Sea, Alaskan waters, yummy "KRILL"

But their greater numbers will create a smaller area to feed depleting their very food for survival

Thank you for your time

P.S.

I hope you realize I took the time and effort to handwrite all my letters of testimony to convey my thoughts personally.
